

Allucent Internships 2023

We anticipate hosting 4-5 ImPACT interns in 2023.

The internship at Allucent (formerly Cato Research and CATO SMS) will involve exposure to several regulatory and clinical projects related to the development of drugs, biologics, or medical devices across various diseases and indications. Possible projects include, but are not limited to, reviewing protocols, writing clinical study reports, and reviewing other documents sent to the FDA on behalf of Allucent's clients. Training will include weekly lectures covering key aspects of drug development from the planning of Phase 1 clinical trials to post-market research. Additionally, the internship will involve projects related to analyzing and improving the internal operations at Allucent.
